WHAT OF THE NEXT GENERATION?

By B. O. Williams, Assistant Boys' Club Agent, S. C.

Clemson College, March 21.—Director W. W. Long, in speaking before the county agents in Spartanburg, made the following statement: "Our work with the boys is the greatest hope which we have." This thought should be the basis of all our efforts in dealing with Boy's Club work. What has the future in store for country boys? The city boy has the advantage of the Boy Scouts, the Y. M. C. A., the baseball club, and other such organizations which take into consideration the general development of the boy. The country boy is isolated. He lacks educational opportunities. His work often partakes of the nature of drudgery. His hours begin before sunrise and close after sunset. As he sees it, it is a real blessing to get with his neighbor boys in a group for pleasure and recreation. What can be done to assist the country boy in establishing his contact with Mother Nature, his experience in dealing with the soil and in handling livestock? Cannot there be something developed which will cause him to realize and appreciate the purpose of his efforts as he toils from day to day? Men are not astonished by the fact that country boys leave the farm. Indeed, it is astonishing that so many remain on the farm, but it must be realized that numbers and numbers of choice country boys leave the farm.

Can there not be supplied in the life of the country boy something which will give him these things? Security, and the hope of it all rests in Boys' Club Work or some such organization. How opportune is the field of work which puts a man in contact with boys and furnishes him a means of leadership whereby he can assist in developing their minds to appreciate farm life their bodies to enjoy recreation, entertainment and pleasure, and their hearts to realize satisfaction and contentment.

The next generation of farmers will witness an organization which has for its purpose the satisfying of that great longing of the country boy, namely, "How can I enjoy myself on the farm?" When boys who love farm life grow into manhood, will they not make farmers who will co-operate with one another, who will profit by the spirit of organization, who will strive to beautify their home grounds, who will endeavor to build up a high standard of ideals in farm life, and will make life on the farm what it should be? Indeed, "our work with the boys is the greatest hope which we have."

MANN-CHILDRESS.

Six Mile Baptist church was the scene of a beautiful wedding Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock when Miss Mary Ethel Mann became the bride of Benjamin Rae Childress, of Catechee, S. C. Elaborate and artistic decorations in white and green made an attractive setting. The candle lighted altar which encircled the wedding party was banked with ferns and flowers which transformed the church into a place of floral beauty.

The wedding was witnessed by a large circle of friends and relatives. The impressive ceremony was performed by Rev. F. S. Childress, the bride's pastor, and a brother of the groom. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. A. C. Mann, of Greenville, S. C., and the groom was attended by his best man, Thomas A. Folger, of Central, S. C., while A. D. Mann, Jr., Herman Childress, Clifton Childress, W. C. Mann, of Columbia, S. C., and D. C. Mann, of Pickens, S. C., acted as ushers.

The girlish beauty of the bride was enriched by her wedding gown of satin with Irish trimming. Her only ornament was a string of pearls. Her corsage was roses and valley lilies. The made of honor, Miss Eleanor Mann, a sister of the bride, wore a beautiful pink satin dress trimmed in silver lace with a hat and slippers to match. She carried a bouquet of Columbia roses.

Appropriate music was rendered while the guests were assembling. The wedding party entered by the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Miss Bethel Mann, sister of the bride. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Childress left for an extended wedding trip in Florida. Mrs. Childress is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Mann of Six Mile, and has many friends in this section and throughout the state. Mr. Childress is principal of the graded school at Catechee, S. C., and after returning from their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Childress will make their home at the Albermarle Hotel, Catechee, S. C.
